Revenue generation is primarily through venue rental, with packages ranging from $35K to $100K+, catering to an affluent clientele. The model is bolstered by minimal operational overhead, relying on a lean staff of 2 W2 employees and 3-4 1099 contractors, which enhances profitability. Operations

The operational framework of Blackberry Ridge is streamlined and efficient, focusing on delivering unparalleled wedding experiences with minimal direct involvement in the events themselves. The owner, Steven, leverages his expertise in design and construction through a separate construction company to enhance and expand the property's offerings. Marketing efforts are strategically allocated between $70K to $100K annually on social media, supplemented by strong organic marketing through client-shared content, which has garnered millions of views. The estate's operational strengths lie in its ability to host large-scale events, evidenced by the 47,000+ guests it accommodated last year, and its forward-thinking expansion plans, including the development of additional lodging and amenities.
